The private equity firm is paying as much as $80 million to acquire a stake in Fannie and Freddie that will give it control of the home-lending giant, according to people familiar with the negotiations. Bainbridge Capital Partners, the privately held investment firm that has operations in mortgage, insurance and financial services, is in the final stages of negotiation with Fannie and Freddie, and is seeking to close the deal in the next few weeks, the people said. It is also in talks with the U.S. Treasury Department and the Federal Housing Finance Agency about a possible initial public offering, they added. The government-controlled companies have given no indication that they will sell to Bainbridge or any other buyer.

Tehran, April 14, IRNA -- Iran has witnessed striking improvement on the economic front despite international pressure over its missile and uranium enrichment programs, Iranian Oil Minister Bijan Zanganeh said Wednesday. Zanganeh said that since the implementation of the Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action (JCPOA) in July 2015, Iran's economy has attracted foreign investment for the first time since the 1979 Islamic Revolution. "Iran has witnessed a great progress in the economic front after the JCPOA implementation and industrial sectors including metal and machine industries have seen clear improvement," Zanganeh said, in a meeting with Iranian Ambassador to India Mohammad Hussein Keshavarz in New Delhi. "The country has been able to attract large-scale investments for the first time since the revolution," he added. During the meeting with Keshavarz, Zanganeh reiterated Iran's readiness to deepen cooperation with India in various fields. Earlier in May, President Hassan Rouhani set the stage for a breakthrough in ties with India as he expressed his wish to sign a number of agreements with the Indian counterpart Ram Nath Kovind during the latter's visit to Iran in July. Rouhani's remarks came during a meeting with Chinese President Xi Jinping who was visiting Iran at the time. Kovind will be the first Indian President to visit Iran in over 35 years, following the signing of a landmark agreement in 2015 between Tehran and six world powers that aims
