Avira Privacy Pal is a privacy solution that can safely clean the digital traces applications leave behind and keep your personal information safe from hackers. The tool's graphical user interface is sleek and easy to use, allowing anyone to clean up their system and perform a comprehensive security scan in just a few simple steps. Protecting your online identity while browsing is a breeze with the Avira Privacy Pal. Clean the browsing history by erasing cookies, removing form input, as well as removing and cleaning the cache, browsing history, and download history. Avira Privacy Pal can scan your browser, Skype, and Cortana to remove tracking cookies, session data, and various data from browsing and social networks. Also, it can clean, erase, and remove cookies, browsing history, download history, and cache. Avira Privacy Pal removes those traces from your online activities, helping to protect your privacy. Make your online identity safe

When it comes to protecting your online identity, Avira Privacy Pal can help. This tool's intuitive graphical user interface allows you to choose between three privacy protection plans:

- The Personalized plan: This Avira Privacy Pal plan is enabled by default, and it allows you to customize the settings, such as browser protection, memory, and cache clearing, while also allowing you to manually remove tracking cookies, ad trackers, and unwanted data. This plan is designed for everyday use, and it simply provides the minimum protection.
- The Basic plan: This Avira Privacy Pal plan offers protection at a basic level by blocking browser tracking, ads, and any other form of data collection. In addition to its customizable privacy settings, this plan also comes with the option to permanently remove all the application's embedded code. This plan is designed for everyday use by security-conscious users who do not want to miss out on any of the application's features and functionality.
- The Enhanced plan: The Enhanced plan removes any browser and application data collection while also blocking the application's code to ensure a safer browsing experience. This plan includes the same customizable privacy settings as the Basic plan, but it also disables the application's embedded code for greater privacy protection. It is designed for everyday use by those who want to make sure their online identity is safe. Choose a protection plan and receive an instant Avira Privacy Pal free trial download. A privacy solution for any user

What's New in the Avira Privacy Pal?

Avira Privacy Pal's main interface reveals the current privacy protection plan you are using along with the protection percentage, which enables you to quickly get a feel of the security status of your system. With the click of a button, you can set the application to start scanning and cleaning your PC from unwanted activities, such as tracking web requests and intercepting data in order to build a behavioral pattern. Keep your identity safe online

More than ever before, your computer can be used to create a digital footprint that not only reveals information about your offline life, but also could be used to craft your online identity. This could put your online privacy at risk, leaving your personal information open to cybercriminals and allowing them to use this info to launch a number of different attacks against your computer and identity. Avira Privacy Pal is designed to prevent this by providing you with various tools to maintain your online privacy and security, enabling you to clean and organize web history, browser cache, downloaded files, temporary internet files and browser cookies. Its main function is to display all the different categories that could be used to track your activity and enable you to perform a quick computer cleanup to make sure your identity is safe. Privacy on the go with mobile apps for Windows Phone

The latest releases of Avira Mobile Security 2012 offer the ability to protect your privacy on the go and store your essential data in a personal cloud. For this purpose, it has implemented its privacy solutions, such as Avira Privacy Assistant, which keeps you safe from online threats and enables you to control the information collected by applications. The four apps are designed to protect your privacy while you browse, so you can easily detect and remove private information on your phone. They all feature a simple, clean, and easy-to-use interface, but what makes them different is the technology they employ to perform computer cleanup and prevent tracking. Each app uses different methodologies to clean your system and provide you with better protection.
