A: You can use the sed command. sed -r's/^(V\d)*S/1/' file.txt This will replace all lines containing your date. Here we have used \1 to reference the pattern inside the parentheses. The sed command is explained in more detail here: A: I would use re.sub() but you might need to first replace all d at the beginning of the line, you can do it with re.sub(): import re d = re.sub(r'^V\d', '', '2003-01-12') A: You can try with the following codes. import re with open("sample.txt") as f: for line in f: if re.findall("^\d",line): # Extracting the year part from the line year=re.findall("\d",line)[0] print("Year:",year) If you don't have a module called re, then you can import the module using import re. Otherwise you can change the code to: import sys for line in sys.stdin: if re.findall("^\d",line): # Extracting the year part from the line year=re.findall("\d",line)[0] print("Year:",year) So that if you type more than one line, it will show each year. Q: How to use IAR Embedded Workbench? Does anyone know of a tutorial or video that will explain the process of getting started with IAR Embedded Workbench? I've been working with IAR Embedded Workbench for quite some time now in the past, but this is the first time I'm using it to build with XC32. I have a BeagleBone Black that I am using as a development 1cb139a0ed
